INFORMATION DISCLOSURE STATEMENTANDCOMMENTS ON STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

Commissioner for Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, VA 22313-1450

Examiner:

In response to an Notice of Allowance mailed 06/16/06, please enter the following in the above application:

REQUEST FOR CONSIDERATION OF PREVIOUSLY SUBMITTED IDS

To date, the Examiner has not indicated that the subject matter of the information disclosure statement (IDS) filed June 09, 2006 has been properly considered. A copy of such IDS is submitted herewith.

Note should be taken that the USPTO acknowledged receipt of such IDS (see attached receipt) prior to the mailing of the Notice of Allowance; and the references are currently available via PAIR (see attached), thus further evidencing that they were, in fact, received.

Thus, documentation in the file wrapper of the instant application confirming the Examiner's consideration of the relevant reference(s) is respectfully requested.

COMMENTS ON STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is the examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

"The prior art either alone or in combination doesn't teach the limitation of a user is allowed to pre-select one of the identifiers which is non-inclusive of any portion of the URLs; and wherein, after the pre-selection, selected content associated with at least one of the URLs displayed during use of the network browser is correlated with the pre-selected identifier in a manner that is dependent on a selection of the pre-selected identifier which is non-inclusive of any portion of the URLs, and stored in combination with the other claimed features."

While applicant agrees with the Examiner's statements regarding Claim 1, applicant notes that other embodiments set forth in other claims require similar, but not necessarily identical subject matter, which was further deemed allowable by the Examiner. For instance, some of such embodiments do not require the aforementioned "in a manner," "a selection of," "non-inclusive of any portion of," "dependent on," etc. language, but rather require similar, but notably different limitations. Note, just by way of example, various language in the emphasized portions of the excerpts below:

“wherein a user is allowed to pre-select one of the identifiers which is separate from the URLs;

wherein, after the pre-selection, selected content associated with at least one of the URLs displayed during use of the network browser is correlated with the pre-selected identifier in a manner that is dependent on a selection of the pre-selected identifier which is separate from the URLs” (see Claim 20 – emphasis added);

“wherein, after the pre-selection, selected content associated with at least one of the URLs displayed during use of the network browser is correlated with the pre-selected identifier in a manner that is based on the pre-selected identifier which is distinct with respect to the URLs” (see Claim 21 – emphasis added);

“wherein a user is allowed to pre-select at least one of the identifiers which is different from the URLs;

wherein, after the pre-selection, selected content associated with at least one of the URLs displayed during use of the network browser is correlated with the pre-selected identifier in a manner that is based on the pre-selected identifier which is different from the URLs, and stored” (see Claim 22 – emphasis added);

“wherein, after the pre-selection and upon selection, selected content associated with multiple URL’s displayed during use of the network browser is correlated with the pre-selected identifier in a manner that is based on a selection of the pre-selected identifier which is different from the URLs and is capable of being manually added by the user, for being stored in user computer memory" (see Claim 24 – emphasis added).
